

PLEASE READ THIS PRIVACY POLICY CAREFULLY BEFORE USING OUR SERVICES

The Cleveland Clinic Foundation (“Cleveland Clinic” or “we”), recognizes the importance of the individual privacy for each user of our services (individually, “you” or a “User” and collectively, “Users”). This Privacy Policy outlines the types of Personally Identifying Information (“PII”) Cleveland Clinic gathers when you use IC-CoDE-Portal.ccf.org (each a “Service”), and how we use that information. This Privacy Policy also details the steps we take to safeguard your PII and how you can correct or update the PII gathered. It is important to review this Privacy Policy in its entirety. These Services do not involve the provision of medical care. Do not share protected health information while using these Services.

The Information We Collect

Identifiable Information. The Services do not require that you submit your contact information or other directly identifiable information and you must not submit to the Services any contact information or directly identifiable information.

Information We Collect Automatically When You Use our Services. When you access or use the Services, we may automatically collect information about you (which in some jurisdictions may qualify as PII), including:

- Usage, System, and Log Data. Your IP address, device identifier, location information, MAC address, browser, and activity on the Service, including, but not limited to, date and times of use, clicks, page and profile views, and the amount of time you spend on each page.
- Data Collected Through Cookies and Similar Technologies. Like many online services, we use various technologies to collect usage data and store preferences. One such technology is called a cookie. A cookie is a small data file that is transferred to your computer's hard disk. We may use both session cookies and persistent cookies to better understand how you interact with the Services and to monitor aggregate usage by our users and web traffic routing on the Services. Also, we may create a unique device or user ID for you and store it in a cookie so we can recognize you and customize your experience based on your preferences. Most web browsers are set to accept cookies by default. If you prefer, you can usually choose to set your browser to remove or reject browser cookies or to prompt you before accepting such a cookie. Please note that if you choose to remove or reject browser cookies, this could affect the availability or functionality of the Services. We may also use web beacons as part of the Services.

Using the Information

General Usage. We may use your information for a variety of purposes, including to:

- Conduct research;
- Prevent potentially illegal activities;
- Monitor and analyze trends, usage, and activities in connection with the Services and for marketing; or

- For other purposes about which we will notify you.

You have the right to request a restriction in using your information, but you will be limited operationally in what you can perform on our site. See the Sharing the Disclosure of Information section below to learn more about what we use your information to do.

Use of Aggregate or De-Identified Information. In addition to the individual data use described in this Privacy Policy, we may aggregate information about you and other individual users together, or otherwise de-identify the information about you, so that the information does not identify you personally. We may use information in these forms for a variety of purposes, including for research and analysis and administration of the Services.

Sharing the Disclosure of Information

We will not share PII about you with any third parties except as described in this Privacy Policy:

- Service Providers. We may share your PII with third-party vendors, consultants, and other service providers who are working on behalf of Cleveland Clinic and require access to your PII to carry out that work.
- Compliance with Laws. We may disclose your PII to a third party if (1) we believe that disclosure is reasonably necessary to comply with any applicable law, regulation, legal process, or governmental request, (2) to enforce our agreements, policies, or Terms of Use, and (3) to respond to an emergency which we believe in good faith requires us to disclose such information to assist in preventing the death or serious bodily injury of any person.
- Users and Groups. Upon your request, we share information with users and groups with whom you have chosen to share information.
- Business Transfers. We may share or transfer your PII in connection with, or during negotiations of, any merger, sale of company assets, financing, or acquisition of all or a portion of our business to another company.
- Affiliates. We may share your PII with affiliates of Cleveland Clinic for use as otherwise described in this Privacy Policy.

Safeguards

Cleveland Clinic has implemented information security safeguards designed to protect your PII. Unfortunately, neither the network nor data transmission over the internet can be guaranteed to be 100% secure. As a result, while we strive to protect a User's information, Cleveland Clinic cannot ensure or warrant the security of PII or other information submitted through a Service.

Online Tracking

The Services do not respond to Do Not Track signals. Third parties cannot collect PII about you when you use a Service.

Accountability and Compliance

You may address any question regarding how Cleveland Clinic complies with this Privacy Policy to the e-mail address set forth in this Privacy Policy.

Third-Party Websites

On occasion, the Services are connected by “hyperlinks” to other third parties' websites. Please note that Cleveland Clinic is not responsible in any way for the privacy practices of other websites and suggests that you review the privacy policies of those other companies' websites before using them.

Consent to Transfer

Please be aware that information we collect through the Service may be transferred to and processed in the United States, where the privacy laws may not be as comprehensive as those in the country where you reside or are a citizen. By using the Services or providing Cleveland Clinic with any information in connection with the Services, you consent to transfer, processing, and storage of your information in the United States or such other countries as Cleveland Clinic choose in its sole discretion.

Changes to this Policy

Please note this Privacy Policy is subject to change from time to time. The effective date of each version of the Privacy Policy will be included in this Privacy Policy. Prior versions of this Privacy Policy will be kept in an archive for you to view for a reasonable period of time.

Contact Information

If you want to contact Cleveland Clinic about anything related to this Privacy Policy, please send an email to privacy@ccf.org.